continue, during the aforesaid period of five months, to exercise the powers and perform the duties of such local authority and the Chairman thereof under any written law.

(2) A general election in accordance with the provisions of the written law for the time being applicable in that behalf shall be held for the purpose of electing members to every local authority referred to in subsection (1), and the term of office of such members shall commence on the first day after the expiration of a period of five months reckoned from the appointed date.

4. Any power or duty of a local authority referred to in subsection (1) of section 3 or of the Chairman of any such local authority, which was exercised or performed by any Assistant Commissioner of Local Government under the said sub-section (1) or under any regulation made under the Public Security Ordinance, shall be deemed to be as valid and effectual as though such power or duty were exercised or performed by such local authority or the Chairman thereof, as the case may be.

Acts done by Assistant Commissioner of Local Government to be valid and effectual as though done by the local authority or Chairman thereof.

5. The provisions of this Law shall have effect notwithstanding anything contained in any other written law and accordingly, in the event of any conflict or inconsistency between the provisions of this law and such other law, the provisions of this Law shall prevail over such other law.

This Law to prevail over other written laws.

6. In this Law—

“appointed date”, in relation to any local authority, means the date on which this Law comes into operation in the administrative district within which the administrative limits of such local authority are situated;

“local authority” means any Municipal Council, Urban Council, Town Council or Village Council.
