

No. 11 of 1892.

An Ordinance to authorize the appointment of Additional Provincial and District Registrars.

(See No. 6 of 1847, No. 13 of 1863, No. 18 of 1867, and No. 3 of 1870.)

WHEREAS it is expedient to make better provision for the registration of marriages, births, and deaths in the colony: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of Ceylon, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, as follows:

Preamble.

1 It shall be lawful for the Governor to appoint any person to be additional provincial registrar of marriages and additional provincial registrar of births and deaths for any province, and such registrar so appointed at pleasure to remove. Every person so appointed shall, under the direction of the provincial registrar, exercise and perform all the powers, duties, and functions now vested in, and made exercisable by, the government agent as provincial registrar of marriages and provincial registrar of births and deaths for such province under and by virtue of the provisions of Ordinances No. 6 of 1847, No. 13 of 1863, No. 8 of 1865, No. 18 of 1867, No. 3 of 1870, and No. 9 of 1870.

Governor may appoint additional provincial registrars.

2 It shall be lawful for the Governor to appoint any person as additional registrar of marriages and additional registrar of births and deaths for any district of or in respect of which an assistant government agent shall be registrar, and such registrar so appointed at pleasure to remove. Every person so appointed shall, under the direction of the assistant government agent, exercise and perform all the powers, duties, and functions now vested in, and made exercisable by, the assistant government agent as registrar for such district under and by virtue of the provisions of the Ordinances specified in the last preceding section.

Governor may appoint additional district registrars.

17th October, 1892.